Shenkman Global Convertible Bond Fund

Class A EUR Hedged Accumulating Shares ISIN IE00BYQ71G56

A sub-fund of Shenkman Credit Fund plc managed by Carne Global Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited

Objectives and Investment Policy

- The Shenkman Global Convertible Bond Fund (the “Fund”) seeks to maximise total returns on a risk-adjusted basis (i.e., enhance current income and achieve capital appreciation).
- The Fund invests primarily (i.e., at least 70 per cent of its net asset value) in convertible securities that are issued by companies worldwide. The convertible securities in which the Fund may invest include bonds, preferred stock, and debenture notes. The remainder of the Fund’s assets may be invested in corporate debt securities, synthetic convertibles, equities, cash, certificates of deposit and commercial paper. The Fund’s investments may be rated investment grade or below investment grade, commonly referred to as “high yield,” or may not be rated. The Fund’s investments may be located anywhere but at times the Fund may invest up to 25 per cent of its net asset value in securities of issuers in emerging markets.
- The Fund also invests in derivatives which are financial instruments linked to the value of underlying assets. Derivatives may be used for managing the Fund’s exposure to foreign currencies, reducing risk, managing the fund more efficiently and to achieve profit.
- The Fund is actively managed and uses the Refinitiv Convertible Global Focus Hedged (USD) Index (the “Benchmark”) for performance comparison only. There can be no guarantee that the Fund will match or exceed the performance of the Benchmark and the investment manager may compare the Fund’s performance to certain other benchmarks on request. The Investment Manager is not constrained by the Benchmark in its selection of investments for the Fund. The Investment Manager may use its discretion to invest in securities, countries or sectors not included in the Benchmark in order to take advantage of specific investment opportunities. The Fund’s investment strategy does not restrict the extent to which the Fund’s portfolio may deviate from the Benchmark.
- This share class is a different currency than the base currency of the Fund, which is U.S. dollars. The Fund will use techniques (hedging) to try to protect against declines in the value of this share class due to changes in currency exchange rates.
- Recommendation: The Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 3 to 5 years.
- Income earned from the Fund’s investments is fully reinvested.
- You can sell your shares on each working day (generally each working day on which banks are open in Ireland and on which the New York Stock Exchange is open).
- For more information about the Fund’s objectives and investment policies, see “Investment Objectives and Policies of the Funds” in the Fund’s prospectus.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk				Higher risk
Typically lower rewards				Typically higher rewards
1	2	3	4	5	6	7

- The risk and reward indicator is not a measure of the risk of capital loss, but is an estimated measure of the Fund’s price movement over time. It may be based on historical data from other accounts that are managed by the Fund’s investment manager according to objectives and investment policies that are substantially similar to the Fund. It may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund.
- The Fund is in the indicated risk category as it produces typically higher rewards than other funds (such as money market funds) and is higher risk as a result of investing in convertible bonds that are below investment grade or are from issuers in emerging markets. The indicated risk category is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The risk and reward indicator is designed to help you understand the uncertainties for both loss and growth that may affect your investment. In this context, the lowest category does not mean “risk free.”
- The Fund does not provide its investors with any guarantee on performance, nor on monies invested in it.

Risks materially relevant to the Fund that are not adequately captured by the risk and reward indicator include:

Investment Risk: The Fund may not achieve its investment objective and the value of your shares in the Fund may fall.

Credit Risk: Fixed income high yield securities are subject to greater credit risks than investment grade debt securities. This is because issuers of fixed income high yield securities are less likely to be able to make interest and/or principal payments on their bonds than issuers of fixed income investment grade securities. So there is greater risk for the Fund to lose all or a portion of its investment.

Liquidity Risk: Fixed income high yield securities may offer less liquidity than fixed income investment grade securities. This means that certain of the Fund’s investments may be difficult or impossible to sell at the desired time and price. This could affect the price and time frame for which the Fund could sell those investments for cash.

Currency Risk: There can be no assurance that the Fund’s share class hedging techniques will be successful. So changes in currency exchange rates may cause the value of your shares to decrease even if the value of the Fund’s investments increases.

Currency Risk: The Fund’s investments may be in currencies other than U.S. dollars. The impact of this is that as the value of a currency rises or falls it can have a positive or negative impact on the value of the Fund’s investments.

Interest Rate Risk: When interest rates rise, the value of the Fund’s portfolio of investments can be expected to decline.

Settlement Risk: The Fund may purchase securities in anticipation of receiving subscription monies on a specified settlement date. In the event that such monies are not received by the Fund when they are due, the Fund may have to sell securities, which could result in a loss.

Operational Risk: This is the risk that certain operational processes, including those relating to the safekeeping of the Fund’s assets, may fail and result in losses.

Emerging Markets Risk: An emerging market country is considered to have social or business activities in the process of rapid growth. The risks involved in investments in emerging markets are likely to exceed the risks of investment in more mature markets.

Derivative Risk A small movement in the value of the underlying asset may cause a large movement in the value of the derivative. Derivatives also involve counterparty risk and the fund may suffer a loss if a counterparty does not meet its obligations.

For a more detailed explanation of those risks applicable to the Fund, see “Certain Risk Factors and Investment Considerations” in the Fund’s prospectus.
