

Shenkman Capital Floating Rate High Income Fund

December 31, 2019

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

The investment strategy is to maximize risk-adjusted returns by investing in primarily first lien, senior secured, floating rate bank loans of non-investment grade (i.e., high yield) companies. The Shenkman Capital Floating Rate High Income Fund employs a conservative approach which focuses on principal preservation. Portfolios are well diversified across issue, issuer, and industry.

FUND OBJECTIVE

- The Shenkman Capital Floating Rate High Income Fund seeks a high level of current income.

WHY SHENKMAN FOR SENIOR SECURED LOAN INVESTING

- Loan & Bond Expertise: David Lerner's 20+ years of dedicated leveraged loan experience combined with the clout of a $27.6 billion* high yield platform facilitates strong capital market relationships that enable us to source paper, garner additional access to company management and work closely with our research coverage.
- Prudent Investment Philosophy: As a firm, Shenkman focuses first and foremost on identifying money good credits, a key element of success in this asset class.
- Depth of Research Team: The quality of Shenkman's 24 member credit research team allows our bank loan portfolio managers to feel confident taking advantage of price anomalies and relative value trades.
- Mandatory Management Contact: The significant overlap between Bond and Loan issuers is a key advantage for Shenkman as we often have had a meaningful dialogue that can include one-on-one meetings, a rarity for loan-only managers.
- Track Record Through Many Market Cycles: While there are many bank loan strategies, Shenkman Capital is one of a few managers with a track record dating back to 1998.

*The Shenkman Group of Companies AUM represents $25.4bn managed by Shenkman Capital Management, Inc. and $2.2bn managed by Romark CLO Advisors, LLC. See Disclaimers for additional important information on the Shenkman Group of Companies.

The Institutional Class inceptioned on October 15, 2014, and Class F inceptioned on March 1, 2017. Since Inception Performance for Class F reflects performance since October 15, 2014. Class F performance for the period from October 15, 2014 to March 1, 2017 reflects the performance of the Institutional Class, adjusted to reflect Class F fees and expenses.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Fund performance current to the most recent month-end may be lower or higher than the performance quoted and can be obtained by calling 1-855-SHENKMAN.

The fund imposes a redemption fee of 1.00% on shares held for 30 days or less. Performance data does not reflect the redemption fee. If it had, returns would be reduced.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Index (the "Index") finished the year on a strong note, returning +1.60% in December due to a solid fundamental outlook post earnings season, continued light supply in the new issue market and a supportive macroeconomic backdrop across most global asset classes. The full year 2019 total return for the Index was +8.64%.

Monthly returns by rating bucket exhibited a risk-on trend with CCC and below rated loans returning +3.11%, B-rated loans +1.94% and BB-rated loans +0.88%, breaking from the recent higher quality outperformance. On a year-to-date basis, BB-rated and B-rated loans significantly outperformed CCC and below rated loans (returns of +9.31%, +8.99% and +1.85%, respectively). Liquid loans, as measured by the S&P/LSTA LL100 index, slightly outperformed the Index (+1.69% versus +1.60%). All 33 sectors showed positive returns during the month for only the second time this year.

The primary market had a quieter month of activity in December with approximately $8 billion (bn) of new institutional volume launched, according to S&P Leveraged Commentary & Data (LCD), which was well below the 2019 monthly average of approximately $27bn. Collateralized Loan Obligation (CLO) formation was slower in December, with $8.2bn of new transactions pricing during the month compared to $9.7bn in November, and loan mutual fund outflows continued though at a slower pace as interest rates stabilized. According to J.P. Morgan Research, the trailing twelve-month default rate as of December 31st is 1.64%, which remains low on a historical basis.

The loan market produced strong returns in 2019 and exhibited greater dispersion by rating category, indicating that investors are pricing risk more discriminately. We look forward to a productive 2020, with more issuers tapping the market for refinancing and other opportunistic transactions. Furthermore, we remain defensively positioned and will continue to deploy capital in what we believe to be creditworthy issuers with favorable relative value in both the primary and secondary markets.

Fund holdings, industry allocations and other characteristics are subject to change at any time and are not recommendations to buy or sell any security. S&P ratings represent Standard & Poor's opinion on the general creditworthiness of a debtor, or the creditworthiness of a debtor with respect to a particular debt security or other financial obligation. Ratings are used to evaluate the likelihood a debt will be repaid and range from AAA (excellent capacity to meet financial obligations) to D (in default). In limited situations when the rating agency has not issued a formal rating, the Advisor will classify the security as nonrated. The S&P/LSTA B- & Above Leveraged Loan Index tracks the current outstanding balance and spread over LIBOR for fully funded institutional term loans that are rated B- or above and syndicated to U.S. loan investors. The S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Index is a daily total return index that tracks the current outstanding balance and spread over LIBOR for fully funded term loans. The facilities included in the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Index represent a broad cross section of leveraged loans syndicated in the United States, including dollar-denominated loans to overseas issuers. It is not indicative of the investment strategies employed by Shenkman Capital and may contain different facilities than the facilities in the Shenkman Capital Floating Rate High Income Fund. London Interbank Offer Rate (LIBOR) – the rate at which banks charge each other for short-term funds; also used as a benchmark for short-term interest rates. The L100 Index or the S&P/LSTA U.S. Leveraged Loan 100 Index is designed to reflect the performance of the largest facilities in the leveraged loan market.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its stated objective. In addition to the normal risks associated with investing, bonds and bank loans, and the funds that invest in them are subject to interest rate risk and can be expected to decline in value as interest rates rise. Investment by the Fund in lower-rated and non-rated securities presents a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher-rated securities. Diversification does not assure a profit, nor does it protect against a loss in a declining market. The SEC does not endorse, indemnify, approve nor disapprove of any security.

The Fund invests in foreign securities which involve political, economic and currency risks, greater volatility and differences in accounting methods. Derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management, and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Leverage may cause the effect of an increase or decrease in the value of the portfolio securities to be magnified and the fund to be more volatile than if leverage was not used. Investments in CLOs carry additional risks, including the possibility that distributions from collateral securities will not be adequate to make interest payments and that the quality of the collateral may decline in value or default.

The indices mentioned are unmanaged, not available for direct investment and do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses.

The Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The summary and statutory prospectus contains this and other important information about the Fund and may be obtained by calling 1-855-SHENKMAN (1-855-743-6562). Read carefully before investing.
