The Short Duration Fund seeks to generate a high level of current income.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Short Duration Fund. You may qualify for sales charge discounts if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $100,000 in the Fund's Class A shares. Certain financial intermediaries also may offer variations in Fund sales charges to their customers as described in Appendix A to the Prospectus. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial professional and in the "Your Account with a Fund" section on page 26 of the Fund's Prospectus, the "Class A Shares Sales Charge Reductions and Waivers" section beginning on page 28 of the Fund's Prospectus, Appendix A to the Prospectus and the "Breakpoints/Volume Discounts and Sales Charge Waivers" section on page 43 of the Fund's Statement of Additional Information ("SAI"). In addition to the fees and expenses described below, you may also be required to pay brokerage commissions on your purchases and sales of Institutional Class shares of the Fund by certain financial intermediaries.

(1) Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses do not correlate to the Ratio of Expenses to Average Net Assets Before Advisory Fee Waiver provided in the Financial Highlights section of the statutory prospectus, which reflects the operating expenses of the Short Duration Fund and does not include 0.01% that is attributed to acquired fund fees and expenses ("AFFE").

(2) Shenkman Capital Management, Inc. (the "Advisor") has contractually agreed to waive a portion or all of its management fees and pay Short Duration Fund expenses in order to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses (excluding AFFE, taxes, interest expense, dividends on securities sold short and extraordinary expenses) to 1.00%, 1.75%, 0.75% and 0.65% of average daily net assets of the Fund's Class A, Class C, Class F and Institutional Class shares, respectively (the "Expense Caps"). The Expense Caps will remain in effect through at least January 27, 2020, and may be terminated only by the Trust's Board of Trustees (the "Board"). The Advisor may request recoupment of previously waived fees and paid expenses from the Fund for three years from the date they were waived or paid, subject to the Expense Caps.

Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Short Duration Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same (taking into account the Expense Caps only in the first year). You may be required to pay brokerage commissions on your purchases and sales of Institutional Class shares of the Fund, which are not reflected in this Example. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Class A (if you redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$400	$624	$867	$1,561
Class C (if you redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$279	$567	$980	$2,132
Class F (if you redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$ 78	$256	$449	$1,008
Institutional Class (if you redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$ 67	$224	$395	$ 889
Class A (if you do not redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$400	$624	$867	$1,561
Class C (if you do not redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$179	$567	$980	$2,132
Class F (if you do not redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$ 78	$256	$449	$1,008
Institutional Class (if you do not redeem your shares at the end of the period)	$ 67	$224	$395	$ 889

Portfolio Turnover

The Short Duration Fund pays transaction costs when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the Example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 60.82% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies of the Short Duration Fund

Under normal market conditions, the Short Duration Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowings for investment purposes) in fixed-income securities and loans issued by companies that are rated below investment grade (i.e., "junk" bonds and loans). The Fund considers below investment grade instruments to include instruments with ratings lower than BBB- by Standard & Poor's ("S&P") Ratings Services or Baa3 by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's"), or that are not rated or considered by the Advisor to be equivalent to high yield instruments. The Fund generally invests in high yield instruments rated CCC or better by S&P or Moody's, but retains the discretion to invest in even lower rated instruments.

The fixed-income securities and loans in which the Short Duration Fund invests include traditional corporate bonds, U.S. Government obligations and bank loans to corporate borrowers, and may have fixed, floating or variable rates. The Fund typically focuses on instruments that have short durations (i.e., have an expected redemption through maturity, call or other corporate action within three years or less from the time of purchase). Duration is a measure of a debt instrument's price sensitivity to yield. Higher duration indicates debt instruments that are more sensitive to interest rate changes. Bonds with shorter duration are typically less sensitive to interest rate changes. Duration takes into account a debt instrument's cash flows over time, including the possibility that a debt instrument might be prepaid by the issuer or redeemed by the holder prior to its stated maturity date. In contrast, maturity measures only the time until final payment is due.

The Short Duration Fund may invest up to 20% of its total assets in foreign fixed-income instruments, including those denominated in U.S. dollars or other currencies, and may also invest without limit in Rule 144A fixed-income securities. Additionally, the Fund may invest up to 15% of its total assets in interest rate swaps for hedging purposes, up to 15% of its total assets in convertible bonds, and up to 10% of its total assets in preferred stocks. The Fund may also utilize leverage of no more than 33% of the Fund's total assets as part of the portfolio management process. Leverage is the practice of borrowing money to purchase investments, for instance, by borrowing money against a line of credit. The Fund may also create leverage by borrowing money against a margin account where the Fund's portfolio holdings and cash serve as collateral for the loan.

The Short Duration Fund may invest up to 100% of its net assets in high-quality, short-term debt securities and money market instruments for temporary defensive purposes.

Principal Investment Risks

Losing all or a portion of your investment is a risk of investing in the Short Duration Fund. The success of the Fund cannot be guaranteed. There are risks associated with investments in the types of instruments in which the Fund invests. These risks include:

- Market and Regulatory Risk. Events in the financial markets and economy may cause volatility and uncertainty and adversely impact the Fund's performance. Market events may affect a single issuer, industry, sector, or the market as a whole. Traditionally liquid investments may experience periods of diminished liquidity. Governmental and regulatory actions, including tax law changes, may also impair portfolio management and have unexpected or adverse consequences on particular markets, strategies, or investments.
- Bank Loan Risk. The Short Duration Fund's investments in secured and unsecured assignments of (or participations in) bank loans may create substantial risk. In making investments in such loans, which are made by banks or other financial intermediaries to borrowers the Fund will depend primarily upon the creditworthiness of the borrower, whose financial condition may be troubled or highly leveraged for payment of principal and interest. When the Fund is a participant in a loan, the Fund has no direct claim on the loan and would be a creditor of the lender, and not the borrower, in the event of a borrower's insolvency or default. Transactions involving floating rate loans have significantly longer settlement periods (e.g., longer than seven days) than more traditional investments and, as a result, sale proceeds related to the sale of loans may not be available to make additional investments or to meet the Fund's redemption obligations until potentially a substantial period after the sale of the loans. In addition, loans are not registered under the federal securities laws like stocks and bonds, so investors in loans have less protection against improper practices than investors in registered securities.
- Convertible Bond Risk. Convertible bonds are hybrid securities that have characteristics of both bonds and common stocks and are therefore subject to both debt security risks and equity risk. Convertible bonds are subject to equity risk especially when their conversion value is greater than the interest and principal value of the bond. The prices of equity securities may rise or fall because of economic or political changes and may decline over short or extended periods of time.
- Counterparty Risk. Counterparty risk arises upon entering into borrowing arrangements or derivative transactions and is the risk from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts.
- Credit Risk. The issuers of the bonds and other debt securities held by the Short Duration Fund may not be able to make interest or principal payments.
- Derivatives Risk. The Short Duration Fund may invest in derivative securities for bona fide hedging purposes. A derivative security is a financial contract whose value is based on (or "derived from") a traditional security (such as a bond) or a market index. Derivatives involve the risk of improper valuation, the risk of ambiguous documentation and the risk that changes in the value of the derivative may not correlate perfectly with the underlying security.
- Foreign Instruments Risk. Investments in foreign instruments involve certain risks not associated with investments in U.S. companies. Foreign instruments in the Short Duration Fund's portfolio subject the Fund to the risks associated with investing in the particular country, including the political, regulatory, economic, social and other conditions or events occurring in the country, as well as fluctuations in its currency, foreign currency exchange controls, foreign tax issues and the risks associated with less developed custody and settlement practices.

- High Yield Risk. High yield debt obligations, including bonds and loans, rated below BBB by S&P or Baa by Moody's (commonly referred to as "junk bonds") typically carry higher coupon rates than investment grade securities, but also are described as speculative by both S&P and Moody's and may be subject to greater market price fluctuations, less liquidity and greater risk of loss of income or principal including greater possibility of default and bankruptcy of the issuer of such instruments than more highly rated bonds and loans.
- Impairment of Collateral Risk. The value of any collateral securing a bond or loan can decline, and may be insufficient to meet the borrower's obligations or difficult to liquidate. In addition, the Short Duration Fund's access to collateral may be limited by bankruptcy or other insolvency laws.
- Interest Rate Risk. The Fund's investments in fixed-income instruments will change in value based on changes in interest rates. If rates increase, the value of these investments generally declines. Instruments with greater interest rate sensitivity and longer maturities generally are subject to greater fluctuations in value. Given that the Federal Reserve has begun to raise interest rates, the Fund may face a heightened level of interest rate risk.
- Investment Risk. The Short Duration Fund is not a complete investment program and you may lose money by investing in the Fund. The Fund invests primarily in high yield debt obligations issued by companies that may have significant risks as a result of business, financial, market or legal uncertainties. There can be no assurance that the Advisor will correctly evaluate the nature and magnitude of the various factors that could affect the value of, and return on, the Fund's investments.
- Leverage Risk. Leverage can increase the investment returns of the Short Duration Fund if the securities purchased increase in value in an amount exceeding the cost of the borrowing. However, if the securities decrease in value, the Fund will suffer a greater loss than would have resulted without the use of leverage.
- Liquidity Risk. Low or lack of trading volume may make it difficult to sell instruments held by the Fund at quoted market prices. The Short Duration Fund's investments may at any time consist of significant amounts of positions that are thinly traded or for which no market exists. For example, the investments held by the Fund may not be liquid in all circumstances so that, in volatile markets, the Advisor may not be able to close out a position without incurring a loss. The foregoing risks may be accentuated when the Fund is required to liquidate positions to meet withdrawal requests. Additionally, floating rate loans generally are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale, may trade infrequently, and their value may be impaired when the Fund needs to liquidate such loans. High yield bonds and loans generally trade only in the over-the-counter market rather than on an organized exchange and may be more difficult to purchase or sell at a fair price, which could have a negative impact on the Fund's performance.
- Management Risk. The Short Duration Fund is an actively managed portfolio. The Advisor's management practices and investment strategies might not work to produce the desired results.
- Market Risk. The prices of some or all of the instruments in which the Short Duration Fund invests may decline for a number of reasons, including in response to economic developments and perceptions about the creditworthiness of individual issuers. There is more risk that prices will go down for investors investing over short time horizons. Market risk may affect a single issuer, sector of the economy, industry, or the market as a whole.
- Preferred Stock Risk. Preferred stocks may be more volatile than fixed-income securities and are more correlated with the issuer's underlying common stock than fixed-income securities. Additionally, the dividend on a preferred stock may be changed or omitted by the issuer.
- Rule 144A Securities Risk. The market for Rule 144A securities typically is less active than the market for publicly-traded securities. Rule 144A securities carry the risk that the liquidity of these securities may become impaired, making it more difficult for the Short Duration Fund to sell these bonds.
- U.S. Government Obligations Risk. Certain U.S. government securities are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States; others are supported by the right of the issuer to borrow from the U.S. Treasury; others are supported by the discretionary authority of the U.S. government to purchase the agency's obligations; and still others are supported only by the credit of the issuing agency, instrumentality, or enterprise. Although U.S. government-sponsored enterprises such as the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac) and the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) may be chartered or sponsored by Congress, they are not funded by Congressional appropriations, and their securities are not issued by the U.S. Treasury, are not supported by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, and involve increased credit risks.
